

Peer trainers dedicated to providing quality education and awareness of hazardous materials, empowering rail workers and communities.

DOT HMIT Grant

Hazardous Materials Instructors Training

The Rail Workers Hazardous Materials Training Program prides itself on delivering the most valuable worker safety training available. Peer Instructors are members of the railroad labor community and take pride in offering the latest and most up-to-date information, teaching techniques and peer support. The Rail Workers Hazardous Materials Training Program will conduct the following regional peer train the trainer programs at the National Labor College – George Meany Campus in Silver Spring, Maryland:

November 7-12, 2010

April 10-15, 2011

June 5-10, 2011

July 17-22, 2011

The goal of the Rail Program is to build a nationwide pool of skilled peer trainers to deliver awareness level hazardous material training. This train the trainer course provides regional peer trainers with the skills and knowledge necessary to deliver hazardous material awareness training at their job-sites, union meetings and in their communities. The pre-requisites are completion of the 5 day Hazardous Material Awareness or approval from the director of this program, based upon equivalent training, and a true desire to help protect your co-workers.

If you want to protect and educate your co-workers by becoming a regional peer trainer, visit our website at <http://www.hazmatgmc.org> and sign up today to become a part of this exciting program.
