

Assumptions

- This document assumes that you have created an account with Apple/Google and have access to the App Store/Market on your device.
- These instructions document how to install a specific RSS reader application when in fact you are free to use any reader you wish. We simply selected the first app that was free and worked appropriately.
- Android devices may have an issue rendering the news feed URL in this document and will intermittently drop the last letter. The last portion of the feed should read rss.xml. Please load the free reader provided by Adobe to remedy this issue.

Apple Setup Instructions

1. From your Apple device, open the App Store.

2. Single click the Search button that is in the bottom, right corner.

3. At the top of the screen, type rss in the search field and click Search. Scroll down the results until you get to XFeed RSS Reader and click it. You will now be presented with more information on the application. Single click the Free button so it changes to say Install. Single click the Install button so the app is added to your phone. It may take a couple of minutes for the app to install.
4. Once finished, click the icon to start the app. Single click the plus button at the bottom of the screen and type <http://www.bmw.org/rss.xml> in the feed URL box. Single click Search so the feed can be found. If successful, you will be presented with a list of options.
 - Change the Title to BMWED.
 - Single click Category and set it to News.
 - Set the Auto Update Interval to Daily.
 - Single click the Save button and then OK when prompted with confirmation of the new feed. Single click the Done button to return to the list of feeds.
5. Select the News category if it is not already selected and scroll down the list of feeds until you see the BMWED Feed. Single click the BMWED Feed and it will automatically download the latest news. To open a news story, single click the headline. Access to the full length documents on the website are available via the 'Read Full Article' button provided at the bottom of each article.
